further review, we found that this was not necessary. We could not find really a compelling reason to continue that. So Section 33 of the committee amendment removes that requirement. The rest of the...of the committee amendment deals, for the most part, with a lot of clean-up language. For example, Section 18 of the committee amendment deals with changing the questions that are asked with respect to organ donation, and we're trying to prepare the application process in anticipation, I think to some extent, of greater use by people of the organ donation opportunities. And Senator Thompson has a bill, (LB) 147, which came through our committee, which has been prioritized and I shouldn't say which senator because I don't remember for sure, it might be...it might be Senator Bourne, I think. Thank you, Senator Thompson. And this dovetails to some extent with what Senator Thompson is attempting to do. So there is that kind of clean-up language in here as well. I...there's a lot of detail in this bill. I've tried to give you the highlights. I know after a breathtaking debate on guns and pristine streams and trout and manure that this is even more exciting, that you're spellbound that you can hardly stand to sit in your chairs. But, in any event, there is a lot in this bill. I will try my best not to forget to mention something that I think is important and I will review again what I've said, and in further opportunities to speak, I will cover perhaps other issues but that is an introduction I feel of the primary components of the committee amendments. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: You've heard the opening on the committee amendments. Debate on the committee amendments, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. Speaker and members of the Legislature, I'm going to ask for a division of the question, but before I do that, I want to ask a question of Senator Bromm, then a question of Senator Bohlke. Senator Bromm, would you answer a question?

SENATOR BROMM: I'll sure try, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Bromm, is there anything in the original bill or the committee amendments which would grant undercover licenses to federal agencies?
